

Due Diligence

Efficiency at every angle

About Us

The Xenco team provides Operational and Technical due diligence through its mining subject matter experts. We clearly, concisely and effectively define the relevant risks of the asset whilst providing a practical range of financial valuations.

Our technical and operational subject matter experts provide decision-making confidence in Independent Project Review (IPR), transactions (M&A), audits and investment processes.

We work with our client's processes to systematically verify the fundamentals of the investment. We determine the areas of risk and their likelihood, and the path to realizing opportunities.
